Monday Morning Update

March 5 - March 11

Hello Notre Dame Law School,

I hope everyone had an awesome weekend! It was a beautiful weekend here in South Bend and I hope everyone was able to get out and enjoy it. Trust me, after Spring Break things really pick-up work wise and the stress level certainly increases. However you get to bask in the glory of March Madness and watch as your brackets crumble into pieces after that 8/9 seed knocks out your Champion. I remember one year I had a Missouri/Duke final and they both proceeded to lose to 15-seeds on the same day. After just 10 hours of basketball, one-half of my Final Four and 100% of my final was gone. I am, admittedly, terrible at brackets. This is primarily because I believe too much in teams like UVa, who has not gotten to a Final Four since 1984, and I really dislike Duke, UNC, Kansas, and Kentucky (who all go to the Final Four quite frequently).

This year, there is about a 0% chance I do not have UVa winning it all and I will likely have Duke, UNC, Kansas, and Kentucky out at the Sweet 16 or earlier. Some smart guy once said that insanity is doing the same thing over and over again and expecting a different result. Well to that guy I say, "Go Hoos."

Unfortunately my happiness likely prevented most of you from seeing the Fighting Irish in the Big Dance this year after Notre Dame came up short in Charlottesville. That being said, I think the Irish have an under-the-radar chance at winning the ACC Tournament in Brooklyn this week which would give them an automatic-birth. Bonzie Colson looks great and the team is fully healthy. Do not be surprised if the Irish make a run at the championship.

After that gloating, here are some Monday Musings:

1. HUGE shout-out to the law school's own, Wes Chamblee!! The 3L hailing from Wabash College WON the 178-pound Weight Class at Notre Dame's Bengal Bouts! A tremendous effort from a great guy. Congrats, Wes!

2. Another shout-out to the Moot Court Showcase teams of 3L Oralists Kayla Clark, Jon McCreary, Kaitlin Carreno, and Pat Manion and 3L Brief-Writers

Shannon Lewry and Brandon Haase. They argued in front of Justice Mary Yu of the Washington Supreme Court, Judge Stephen Murphy of the U.S. District Court of Appeals for the Eastern District of Michigan and Judge Kenneth Ripples of the Court of Appeals for the 7th Circuit. I was able to attend and they all did a great job! Congrats, guys!

3. Father Mike is coming up on March 27th. We would love to have more talent and skit/video sign-ups for the show. If you are interested in either, please fill out these forms or contact me if you have any questions:

1L OF THE WEEK

This week we have volunteer Grace Nickels! She graciously volunteered to be 1L of the week and now we get the pleasure of getting to know her more.

Thanks, Grace! Buy this woman a coffee!

Q: Where did you attend undergrad?

A: Notre Dame

Q: Where is your hometown?

A: Clarendon Hills, Illinois

Q: What did you do before law school?

A: I came to law school straight from undergrad!

Q: What did you do this summer?

A: This summer I worked for the in-house general counsel of a hedge fund in Chicago.

Now for the fun questions:

Q: Do you know what AIM was and if so, what was your screen name?

A: I did know what AIM was, but my parents were super strict and never let me make one. :(

Drew Side-Note: This is like 3 1Ls in a row without screen names. I am starting to question if I should have really had AIM access. Would my life be different?

Q: It's your 75th birthday. Where do you see yourself?

A: Retired in Portland, Maine in a cottage on the coastline next to a lighthouse with my pet, Todd. (Check out @ToddtheGecko on Instagram!)

Drew Side-Note: I hear Portland is amazing so I give kudos to this answer. However, I also get a salty-lighthouse watchman vibe with this one. Why near the light-house? Does she work it? If she does, do we want a 75-old working such an important job? Is it just for the picturesque views? Also, not to get dark, but do geckos live that long?

Q: What would you name your boat if you had one?

A: Ship Happens

Drew Side-Note: A+ name, Grace. I would go with "I'm The Captain Now" or "This Was A Bad Decision" or "Tax Haven" and I would use the boat to catch shrimp and sell them/hide money from the government. International waters applies here, no?

Q: How many chickens would it take to kill an elephant?

A: I was actually asked this before by a professor last year. I think I said 2,500, or just one that REALLY believed in itself.

Drew Side-Note: The answer is actually 758, but they also need lasers and sharp talons.

Q: If you were transported 400 years into the past with no clothes or anything else, how would you prove that you were from the future?

A: I would probably try to stay pretty low-key to avoid being accused of witchcraft and burned at the stake or something.

Drew Side-Note: Smart move by Grace here. I would prove this by taking them on treks to the West Coast and show them the land they should buy. This would have drastic international implications, however this should still prove to them I'm from the future. Then I would build the Internet and invent Google.

HAVE A GREAT WEEK!
