News from Admissions

From Melissa Fruscione: It is bittersweet that I announce Eamon Ladewski, Assistant Director of Admissions, will be leaving us on June 23. After about two and a half years serving the Law School through his work in the Admissions Office, Eamon will be joining the staff at Michigan State University College of Law as the Associate Director of Admissions. Over the years, Eamon has influenced the shape of the entering class through his outreach and counseling of prospective students. While we will greatly miss Eamon, we wish him well on this wonderful opportunity. If you want to contact Eamon, you can do so at eladewski@gmail.com

Campus News and Events

From Sean O'Brien: If you've got a mid-16th century Anglican Evensong itch that needs to be scratched, come seek relief on Wednesday night! Our 45-minute performance, will be presented at both 7:00 and 8:30pm in the Reyes Organ and Choral hall at DPAC. Tickets are $3 available here.

From Julie Boynton: After a thorough cost and utilization study, a decision has been made to close the University's Sign Shop, effective June 30, 2013. The last day of operations for the Sign Shop will be Friday, June 28. The search for a new preferred vendor has begun. A follow-up communication will be sent when a preferred vendor has been selected. The Sign Shop will continue to operate fully until June 28, 2013.

Departments with anticipated signage needs are encouraged to contact the Sign Shop as soon as possible to plan for project delivery prior to closure.

NDLS Classifieds

From Beth Given:

My husband just accepted the offer of a post-doctoral position that will keep us here at Notre Dame for at least another year, and we are looking for a home! If any of you have knowledge of a house that will be available beginning in June 2013, or if you know of anyone looking for someone to take good care of their home during a sabbatical, we would be most grateful for any tips or recommendations. During Ethan's graduate studies we have been living in an apartment, and we would love a change of scenery. We are more than happy to assist with gardening, maintenance and other joys of home-ownership we have thus far been missing as apartment dwellers (Ethan gets a wistful look in his eyes when he talks of lawn mowing; I kid you not) and our only firm requirement for an abode is that we can have pets. We currently only have our cat (Atticus is a perfectly fastidious beast who should give no homeowner or landlord any cause for concern) because our dog, Scout, died earlier this year, but we are hoping to find a new canine friend soon. Please feel free to pass along our contact information and request to anyone – my e-mail, as you know, is given.1@nd.edu, and Ethan's is eubersed@nd.edu.
