Monday Morning Update

October 23 - October 29

Hello Notre Dame Law School,

I hope everyone had a great and relaxing fall break! As most of you know, or maybe don't know, this is when things really get going at the law school and everyone seems to be busier. For the 1Ls, this is probably when you should really start thinking about settling down and making sure that you are doing the right things to prepare for exams. Like I said two weeks ago, make sure you are speaking with your professors and mentors about how to prepare for exams and get those outlines in order. If you are confused about how to outline something or don't know how it fits into the themes of the class, you probably don't fully understand it. No need to fret, there are still 6-7 weeks until exams, however things will get more stressful. Make sure you get enough sleep and enough to eat over the next few weeks. You'd be surprised at how much that can help.

Anyway, off my soapbox, here are some Monday Musings. I know how much you missed them:

1. WOOOOOOOOO! 49-14! Your #9 Notre Dame Fighting Irish have officially put the nation on notice with their biggest win in a few years. With the schedule remaining, the Irish sort of control their own destiny in terms of making the College Football Playoff. If the team can win it's remaining 5 games, they will have probably the strongest case of any team not named Alabama to get into the CFP. NC State, Miami, and Stanford are all currently ranked and Wake Forest and Navy are both formidable opponents. The MMUs official record prediction is still 10-2 because when it comes to sports, disappointment seems to be the current trend (still not over the Yankees loss).

2. Over break I spent time in Chapel Hill, North Carolina and Indianapolis. I am not sure if everyone has been to either, however, I could not imagine two better places to spend the break. Chapel Hill was essentially the greatest a college town could offer in one place. Indianapolis, just a quick 3 hour drive away, has an amazing range of restaurants and "venues" that I really did not expect. Additionally, if you are ever able to get to Brown County State Park, in Nashville, IN, I encourage it. Incredibly beautiful trails and lakes. And that was Travelling with Drew.

3. I heard a rumor over break that South Bend was getting an additional thousand or so LimeBikes. This rumor was confirmed when I did a Google search and saw that the town raised $50 million (!) to purchase more. I imagine there other ways the town could have spent $50 million instead of buying more bikes in the middle of a harsh winter (side-note, where are these going to be stored?), but those types of decisions are above my pay grade.

4. Class sign-ups are coming. Everyone start practicing entering in those CRN numbers faster than you ever thought possible!

Go Irish, Beat Pack. Go Hoos, Beat Panthers.

Lots of love,
Drew

EXPERIENTIAL LEARNING FAIR

Attend our first-ever Experiential Learning Fair on Monday, October 23rd co-sponsored by the Externship Programs, the Clinical Law Center, the Career Development Office, and the Student Bar Association.

The event will begin with a presentation about experiential learning opportunities in the Courtroom at 5:30, followed by a reception with food and drink in the Eck Commons.

All of our externship professors and many field placement supervisors, along with our clinical professors, will be at the reception to answer your questions about their courses and law offices.

Schedule:

5:30-6:10pm: Experiential Learning Presentation at McCartan Courtroom, Assoc Dean Bob Jones:

- How does the new ABA 6-credit experiential learning requirement work?
- What are the different types of experiential learning courses?
- How can you choose among them, and how can you sequence them?

6:15-7:15pm: Reception at Eck Commons; serving hors d'oeuvres & beverages

Come speak to:

- Faculty from clinics and from all externship courses.
- Externship supervisors, including judicial, prosecutors, corporate counsel and others.
- Students who have done clinics & externships.

Co-sponsored by:

Clinical Law Center, Career Development Office, Externship Faculty, and the SBA

TRICK OR TREATING AT THE LAW SCHOOL

On Tuesday, October 31, from 3:30 to 4:30 PM, we will hold our annual Halloween Trick-or-Treating event for the children of the Law School community -- including children of students, faculty and staff. We hope children will enjoy the opportunity to go around our building, show off their costumes, and do some trick-or-treating in a warm, safe environment. You are more than welcome to bring your children.

On that day, the Student Services Office (Room 1100) will have a list of participating persons and offices around the Law School.

EXAM CONFLICTS AND SPECIAL REQUESTS

In case you have not seen it, the exam schedule is posted online. The deadline for notifying the Student Services Office of examination conflicts or of special needs for which accommodations are needed is Friday, November 3, 12 PM.

The November 3 deadline for notification of exam conflicts or special needs is firm, so please check the exam schedule immediately. No requests to change one's exam schedule will be accepted after this date, except in cases of family or medical emergencies, or other unforeseeable circumstances that require last-minute attention.

Check your emails for the form.

SYMPPLICITY

Attention all 1Ls!! You are invited to logon to your Symplicity account to make your first appointment with a counselor. The first day you can meet with a counselor is October 16th, but you can make your appointment now! If you haven't already created your Symplicity account please do so at your earliest convenience.

Mass Schedule

For the Fall 2017 semester, Masses will be offered in the St. Thomas More Chapel as follows:

- Monday-Thursday, 5:15 PM
- Friday, 12:30 PM
- Sunday, 4:30 PM
