Monday Morning Update

November 14th - November 20th

Hello and good week, NDLS.

Sorry for the slight delay in the delivery of the MMU this week. I left my computer charger inside of an AirBNB in Philadelphia and had to wake up my roommate to borrow his charger. It wasn't compatible with my computer, so I had to borrow his computer. For some reason, his computer didn't have all of my passwords saved on it, so I couldn't access the program I use for these emails. I had to do one of those security questions things to retrieve my password but I couldn't remember the name of my first elementary school or my favorite place to visit (it certainly was not Philadelphia), so I got locked out. It's been quite the morning.

While we're on the subject, if you have someone you'd like to see have a miserable weekend, buy them a trip to Philly. After cheesesteak restaurants that consider cheese whiz a delicacy and a big room where some dudes once signed some stuff, the city's best attraction is a broken bell. It also claims to have a very cool, old prison, but we tried to go and the line was almost two hours long. That really sums up the city for me: it stinks so bad that people will wait in line for two hours just to go to prison. It's like Paris, just without any of the things that makes Paris cool.

Anyway, have a good week.

If you would like to submit something to the MMU, please click the link at the bottom of this email or send an email with all event details to mondaymorningupdate@gmail.com.

SBA Community Service Thanksgiving Drive

For the next two weeks, SBA will be collecting nonperishable food items in order to provide Thanksgiving meals for several organizations in South Bend. There will be a box in the Commons for each class starting this week and continuing through next week. We could use all sorts of canned fruit or vegetables, cranberry sauce, boxes of dessert or cornbread mix, etc. So buy some extra canned goods, lug them all the way to the law school, and try to bring it in by next Thursday. The class who collects the most food items will be awarded with that temporary, good feeling you get when you've done something good for the world!

Assistant Rector Applications

Applications for the position of residence hall Assistant Rector will be available on Wednesday, November 23. Applications may be completed and submitted from the Office of Housing website. Please visit the website to view the position description, application, submission process and timeline, recommendation form, eligibility requirements, salary and benefits. (Please note: individual hall position descriptions and number of vacancies will be updated in the Spring semester.)

Assistant Rector Info Sessions

Wednesday, November 16, 7:30 p.m., FOG Community Center

Monday, November 21, 5:00 p.m., Law School, 1140 Eck Hall of Law

Residential Life is hosting two information sessions for those interested in applying for an AR position. Attendance is not mandatory, but can be very helpful in discerning whether being an AR is right for you, and how to best navigate the application process. Please visit the Office of Housing website to learn more.

Jus Vitae March to Life Update

Travel Vouchers are available to graduate students and faculty to cover up to $500.00 of costs associated with travel (including food and metro!) Interested students can email me at gweigel@nd.edu for more information about the voucher process, the travel schedule, and any other questions they may have concerning the trip.

To Register, visit the link below, add the "March for Life 2017" to your cart, and fill out the form. Remember to sign up for the Thursday, Nov. 26 departure date and the Saturday, Nov. 28 return trip. On the form you can indicate that you are a grad student and that will designate you a spot on the separate grad student bus. Additional perk: you get an item of ND Right to Life apparel included in your registration. Registration is $35.00

To 3L's, From Anne, With Love

Quite a few of you need to take Jurisprudence in the spring semester. It is imperative that you register for Jurisprudence during the 3L registration times next week. Prof. Pojanowski intends to limit the enrollment in each section.

There is sufficient space for 3Ls as long as you register on time.

Some of you have registration holds from Student Accounts and Health Services. Now is the time to resolve these holds so that your registration screen is cleared to register your courses.

This Week @ NDLS

Monday - November 14th

- ACS Speaker: 12:30pm in Room 1140 -Brandon J. Anderson will discuss the ethical and legal issues museums face when dealing with collections that have a controversial lineage. Chipotle will be served.
- SBA Meeting: 5pm in Room 1130 - All are welcome to attend.
- Interfaith Prayer Service for Respect and Solidarity: 5:30pm in front of O'Shaughnessy Hall - From Father Jenkins: After an acrimonious election season, we see in our nation signs of deep divisions, uncertainty, anger and even fear. I invite the campus community to come together for a brief interfaith prayer service to ask for peace in our nation, wisdom for our leaders and care for the most vulnerable.

Who's That 1L?

That's Becky Stephenson!

Becky is from Texas. She went to Baylor, where she studied abroad in Scotland and served as her sorority's recruitment director. She also lived in Brazil when she was young.

She drinks more coffee than water. ("Literally." - Becky) So next time you see her in the commons, buy her a cup. Or maybe some water because that seems dangerous.
