Juvenile Justice Law School Scholarship

We are committed to juvenile justice and want to encourage young people to pursue a career in law and hopefully make a difference to someone in their careers. We have discovered that nothing matters more in the early life of a youth charged with a crime than lawyers, legal professionals, and judges who are committed to defending the rights of the youth.

Amount: $1,000 scholarship will be awarded to an applicant exclusively for law school tuition and related expenses.

Candidates: For any law student attending (or accepted and planning to attend) an accredited law school.

Deadline: July 31st, 2015

Details & Application: <http://www.criminalawdenver.com> (scroll down to bottom of page for scholarship information link)

Scholarship offered by: Tiftickjian Law Firm, P.C.

- The Shunning has a few changes this week.
 - Off the list are a few of those involved in the “white-shirt” photo. Kensi Wolgamott (nailed her on call in Trusts & Estates), Dog (who had no say in whether he was in the photo when it was taken), Cara Swindlehurts (because she plans all of our fun social activities), and the Stay-Puft Marshmallow Man (because he was awesome in Ghostbusters). Oh what the heck, you are all removed, a one week penalty is enough. However, dare take another photo like that and watch out! Also removed is Stephen Astringer (I am not sure he actually knows who I am which would make his shunning explainable).
 - On the list this week is Abdullah Abdul “Tupac” Shakour. Twice he refused my “hello” while in the computer lab. Side note, his favorite Tupac song is “Gangsta.” Marie Hollister jumped onto the list as well for ignoring me at the printers on Wed. She did finally say hello and was very nice, as always, but too little too late! Bryan Pearson’s name was ratted to the MMU by an “anonymous tipster” as someone who has repeatedly refused invitations to play basketball. Also Alexander Robinson for ratting on a friend.

GET TO KNOW SOMEONE

Dillon Cawley is a 2L who has very curly hair, if you don't like it, he doesn't care. Luckily he found a climbing helmet that could contain it when he and his cousin took on and conquered Grand Teton. Dillon has the yellow skull cap on and this is pretty near the summit (no confirmation whether he actually got there...) He loves all things outdoors, hiking, fishing, climbing, etc. Most people would not guess that Dillon is a trained chef. He actually has a culinary degree and worked as a chef for several years. He prefers to cook new things that require exotic ingredients. He grows his own “peppers” and likes to talk varieties of peppers and tomatoes. Does that mean red, green, and yellow? As all chefs eventually do, he realized he need a 4-year degree to make it in life, so he chose to go it easy and get a quickie molecular biology degree. The hotel-and-restaurant-management-major of any undergraduate science program. He later worked at Northwestern (a football powerhouse) as a lab technician focusing on mouse olfaction. His mouse perfumes and colognes have led to a swell in the mouse population in Evanston. When you see Dillon, say hello and ask him about his homemade salsa that he makes out of the hottest peppers he can grow.

WHO AM I?

I am 5th from the right, standing in the back row. Now since I am kind of small in this picture, I will give you an additional hint. I authored an illustrated book on English to English translations for Americans who visit England.

Reminder of last week's photo.

If you guessed PETER HORVATH then you may pat yourself on the back. That is him playing Rugby at Wabash College.
