Monday Morning Update

January 21 - January 27

NDLS,

A lot to think about this week. Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Day is today. It's "Walk the Walk" Week. There's no clear end in sight for the longest government shutdown in our country's history. The British government is on the verge of the greatest self-own in history on the backs of quite-obviously-lying memes. Colton is still, inexplicably, the Bachelor. The Bachelor is still, inexplicably, on television. A lot to think about.

Go Irish,
Bill

Father Mike Show: Rescheduled to April 2

To better accommodate acts, we are moving the show back one week; the show will take place on Tuesday, April 2, 2019.

An introductory meeting for the show, and how to get involved, will take place this Wednesday. More below.

Congratulations to SCELf MLB Arbitration Participants!!

This year SCELf and NDLS had the pleasure of sending three law students to Tulane University to compete in the 12th Annual International Baseball Arbitration Competition. The tournament took place this past week.

3L Reid Fulkerson, 2L Dominique Fry, and 1L John Casey, lead by 3L Coach Stephen Scheffel, had a dominant performance in the tournament.

From over 40 original teams, the trio made it all the way to the finals and is bringing home a second place finish to Notre Dame. We are thrilled with their performance and hard work!! Make sure you congratulate them if you see them!

Walk the Walk Week

This year marks the fourth annual campus-wide observance of Martin Luther King Jr. Day and Walk the Walk Week, a week-long series of University and department sponsored events designed to help us consider how we—both individually and collectively—might take an active role in making Notre Dame even more welcoming and inclusive. University President Rev. John I. Jenkins,

C.S.C., and the President's Oversight Committee on Diversity and Inclusion invite you to participate in one of more of the week's offerings. All are welcome!

This year, MLK Day falls on Monday, January 21. Our campus commemoration will begin with a candlelight prayer service in the Main Building Rotunda on Sunday, January 20. On Monday, January 21, we will mark MLK Day with a campus-wide luncheon and program in the Joyce Athletic and Convocation Center. Classes will be canceled midday to allow students, faculty and staff to come together for this special luncheon or gather in the campus dining halls for community-building.

Information about events being planned as part of Walk the Walk Week (January 20-26) can be found here.

Mass Schedule

For the Spring 2019 semester, Masses will be offered in the St. Thomas More Chapel as follows:

- Monday-Thursday, 5:15 PM
- Friday, 12:30 PM
- Sunday, 4:30 PM

Weekly Bible Study

CLS Bible Study at 8:30PM Tuesday. Contact Adrian Bottomley at abottoml@nd.edu for more information (if you're coming I probably need to know so I can let you in as we meet at my apartment).

LEGAL WRITING CENTER

The Legal Writing Center is dedicated to helping law students become better writers. Our tutors accomplish this goal by listening attentively in writing conferences, reading papers carefully, and asking questions that can help writers better express their ideas and construct their arguments. Legal Writing Center tutors work with writers during all stages of the writing process—from understanding an assignment, to developing a thesis, to organizing the paper, to revising the final product. Make an appointment here or drop in to room 2146 during the following hours:

Monday 9:00–12:00; 1:00–4:00

Tuesday 9:00–11:00

Wednesday 11:00–2:00; 4:00–5:00

Thursday 12:00–2:00; 4:00–5:00

INVITATION TO ALL NDLS STUDENT GROUPS

Upload your organization's event poster to this Google Drive folder.

We'll put your poster on the Law Library e-board.

(Read the details in the How to Use this Folder document.)

Health & Wellness Information

Wellness in Mind - Need some support? Remember that your Wellness Consultant, Stella Miller, is here for you. Drop her a line at stella.miller@nd.edu or make an appointment at www.calendly.com/stellamiller.

Also, we encourage you to be mindful of the relaxation resources available at the McDonald Center for Student Well-Being. These include yoga, Koru Mindfulness, the Sleep Program, and restorative spaces like the Living Room, Break Room, and Fort. Health support services are always available at University Health Services and the University Counseling Center.

New Year, New #Content

My dears,

I went home this weekend. My oldest sister was in Chicago from Phoenix with her two young boys, and it's the first time my two nieces got to meet them. Of all the things that I've become in my young (lol) life, being a godfather to four children counts as the greatest and most humbling of those things.

Abby (ten), Aubree (three), Jaxson (four), and Miles (nearly two) are your typical kids in the way that they are loud, confused, and say outrageous things all the time. For example, I spent a full two hours this morning getting called "Mr. Bologna Sandwich Cheese Head With Peanut Butter" by a four year old boy. There's no come-back for that. I am a broken man.

They also know that I'm totally soft and will do basically whatever they say because I am soft.

When they wanted me to carry all of them on my back at once like a turtle?
Yes.

When they wanted me to grab the nice chocolate? Yes.

When they wanted me to eat 25 popcorn shrimp in less than two minutes at Red Lobster? Yes.*

When they wanted me to call my sisters names in front of them? Yes.

When they wanted me to "be tall, like a lame tree" for five minutes? Yes.

When it comes to these children, I am soft. But hey, it is what it is. Not only did I get to avoid doing law school all weekend, but I got shrimp outta the deal. Not bad.

*Shrimp were harmed in the making of this MMU. I would also probably speed-eat shrimp in non-children contexts, but no one's ever asked before. Come to think of it, no one's ever asked me to speed-eat anything. I blame y'all.

1L OF THE WEEK

The 1L of the week is Ethan Heller! Ethan was very excited to participate in this Q&A even though I interrupted his Championship Sunday. Buy him a coffee and demand he watches better childhood movies!

Q: Where is your hometown?

A: Gillette, New Jersey.

Q: Where did you attend undergrad?

A: I went to Washington & Jefferson College, a small liberal arts school outside of Pittsburgh.

Q: What's your favorite non-law school activity?

A: I'm a big skier, winter sports were always my thing when I was younger. I don't get the point of snow when there's nothing to do. It's not even worth it to have snow.

Q: What was the best part of your winter break?

A: It was definitely getting to catch up with everyone I haven't seen in a while. A lot of my friends have moved away from home, so when we're all back it's nice to get to see everyone again.

Q: What are your new years' resolutions for 2019?

A: Can I think about it for a second? I want to try to use my phone less, because I've noticed that whenever I have a spare second I'm looking at it - I can't even watch Netflix without looking at it and I feel like I'm missing a lot of important stuff.

Q: When was the last time you built a snowman?

A: Ummm, the last time I built a snowman was with my brother, back in high school. But I remember we built a whole cave and everything; we have pictures and a home video. He did not have a name, but I remember we got in trouble because we used our mother's scarf - she found out when she came home.

Q: How are you going to handle the severe lack of football that is rapidly approaching?

A: So, I'm an NBA fan over NFL; I really don't mind it and I'm looking forward to the ramp up to the NBA season. I'm a Knicks fan, currently on a pretty heavy tank schedule. But it's a league mostly about individuals which makes it really intriguing, plus I get to make mock drafts and stuff.

* LIGHTNING ROUND ****

Q: Toy Story 1, 2, or 3?

A: I actually didn't get into Toy Story as a kid. Shrek > Toy Story.

Q: Penguins or Flying Birds?

A: Penguins.

Q: Soup or Salad?

A: Soup, for sure.

Q: High Fives or Low Fives?

A: High Fives.

Q: Drake or Drake?

A: Obviously Drake.

Q: Do you have anything else you'd like to say to all of your fans?

A: I don't know if I particularly have fans. What's the normal answer?

Q: Who should be 1L of the week next week?

A: Jaemie Paraon.

Long Reads of the Week

- Letter From a Birmingham Jail
 - "Moreover, I am cognizant of the interrelatedness of all communities and states. I cannot sit idly by in Atlanta and not be concerned about what happens in Birmingham. Injustice anywhere is a threat to justice everywhere. We are caught in an inescapable network of mutuality, tied in a single garment of destiny. Whatever affects one directly, affects all indirectly. Never again can we afford to live with the narrow, provincial "outside agitator" idea. Anyone who lives inside the United States can never be considered an outsider anywhere within its bounds." Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr., April 16, 1963.

- Glaciers are Retreating. Millions Rely on Their Water.
 - In Central Asia, a warming climate is shrinking the Tuyuksu glacier. It's losing ice every year. Around the world, vanishing glaciers will mean less water for people and crops in the future.
- Theatre of Wokeness
 - Are we having a surface-level reckoning?
- In Business and Governing, Trump Seeks Victory in Chaos
 - "He hasn't changed at all," said Jack O'Donnell, who ran a casino for Mr. Trump in the 1980s and wrote a book about it. "And it's only people who have been around him through the years who realize that."
- Consolation Prizes
 - The right's bid to short-circuit inequality with cheap gizmos.
- The Oral History of Office Space: Behind the Scenes of the Cult Classic
 - To mark the film's 20th anniversary (Feb. 19), EW spoke to key on- and-off-screen talent about how the low-budget comedy – starring mostly unknown actors – became a timeless portrait of Everyman Peter Gibbons' (Ron Livingston) revenge against smarmy bosses, menacing office equipment and T.P.S coversheets. (Did you get that memo, by the way?)
- "THE SON OF A B* IS GOING TO RUN": KENNEDY, CARTER, AND THE LAST TIME A POWERFUL POLITICIAN CHALLENGED AN INCUMBENT PRESIDENT OF THEIR OWN PARTY
 - The inside story of why Teddy Kennedy challenged Jimmy Carter, his president and partisan, in 1980—and why it could happen again in 2020.
- The Uncounted Families Torn Apart at the Border
 - A new government report found that thousands of children were separated from their parents, but the exact figure is still "unknown."
- Diary: How I Write Music
 - Composer Nico Muhly writes about his primary goal: "to create a piece of art that is better than the same amount of silence."

Have a good week! Go Irish!
