Notice for student visitors to Sinai Synagogue

The Sinai Synagogue of South Bend often hosts Notre Dame student visitors during worship services to learn about Judaism either as a class assignment or otherwise. Rabbi Friedland has informed the University that their visitor policy has changed this year and the University has asked us to pass on the new policy as needed to students. Please stop by to see Christine Holst in Student Services in Eck 1100 for more information if you plan to attend services at Sinai Synagogue this year.

A Little Lagniappe

Hello NDLS!

Ok you all know I'm going to talk a little about the wild ride that was the LSU-Texas game. So, if you're not interested, feel free to skip ahead...I won't be offended...ok maybe just a little.

Anyway, wow! What a game. First, thank you to the University of Texas for making it an entertaining match-up. There is nothing I hate more than a big-hype up only to have a blow-out game--so disappointing. This match was superb!

But man was I stressed the whole time. I think in the Fourth Quarter alone, my AppleWatch told me to breathe at least 8 times. Joe Burrow did a fantastic job. He maybe could've used a littleeee bit more help with some blocks just to give him more time to throw. This factor was the root of my stress and all those around me could tell probably because I jumped out of my chair every time he dropped back to pass. In the end though, Burrow threw four touchdown passes along with 471 yards, the second most by an LSU QB since 2001. Additionally, three of LSU's wide receivers each racked up over 100+ yards for the first time in LSU Football history.

Our defense overall showed up, clearly doing their part to keep Texas out of the end zone--again, another root of my stress--but I'm hoping to see some improvements here in the next game. We were far from terrible, but we weren't exactly 100.

For those of you asking, I have no idea why we went for 2 after that one touchdown. Coach O has yet to respond to my insta DM, so I will have to report back on that later.

But wow, what a great victory. It really just made my night to watch LSU's first AP Top 10 non-conference win on the road in program history. Like, what a way to end a Saturday! And, as if it couldn't get any better, we got this great meme out of it:

LSU is happy to have provided the Nation with a great game and even better laughs. Thank you for all the support--LSU rant over.

Stay Golden, NDLS

Marge

SPORT REPORT

It was a great weekend for both football and tennis alike! Here are just a few highlights I caught (mainly bc I was glued to the tv from 7:30-11:30 Saturday night for one purpose):

- 19-year-old Bianca Andreescu beat Serena Williams 6-3 and 7-5 to win her first U.S. Open!
- Rafael Nadal defeated Daniil Medvedev in five sets to win his 19th career grand slam at the US Open.
- No. 6 LSU's new spread offense proved to be legit as senior QB Joe Burrow threw for 471 yards and four touchdowns en route to a 45-38 win over no. 9 Texas in Austin (see my musings for more thoughts on this game).
- Surprise surprise, #7 Michigan barely survived an upset bid by Army as they won it in double-overtime 24-21--I watched this game...and was v disappointed to say the least...
- Meanwhile, the team we LSU fans like to call the faux-Tigers of Clemson beat Aggy 24-10

However, this upcoming weekend, we can all unite under the blue, gold, and green to cheer for our Fighting Irish of Notre Dame as they take on New Mexico @ home! Kick-off is at 2:30pm EST--be there or be square!

Also, to honor the legacy of our dear former Secretary, Bill Green, the boys in red (Liverpool) take the field at Newcastle on 9/14 at 7:30 am and Leicester City hosts Manchester United at 10:00 am.

So many teams, so little writing space--that's all for this week! Want your team to be highlighted? Got a few things to say about this weekend's game schedule? EMAIL IT TO ME! (otherwise you'll get to read sports reported by me, a passionate but uneducated fan, all year long :))

Go Irish and ALWAYS GEAUX TIGERS!

PROFESSOR SPOTLIGHT

This week's professor is Jeff Pojanowski--Crooked Ewe enthusiast and lover of pho. Thank you Professor Pojanowski for participating in our Spotlight!

Jeff Pojanowski went Princeton for undergrad and graduated from Harvard Law School. He clerked for then-Judge John G. Roberts, Jr. on the Court of Appeals for the D.C. Circuit and Justice Anthony M. Kennedy of the Supreme Court of the United States. He practiced appellate and administrative law litigation for three years before entering the legal academy, and he has been at Notre Dame since July of 2010. Prof. Pojanowski teaches torts, jurisprudence, administrative law, and conflict of laws and writes in administrative law, legal interpretation, and jurisprudence.

When he's not reading, writing, or teaching, he likes to spend time with his wife and two kids, go running, drink good beer, listen to music, and see live concerts. He roots for Notre Dame football and Princeton basketball. The Crooked Ewe is his favorite watering hole and he loves the pho at Creasian. If he could tell his law school self one thing it would be to not bring a laptop to class his 2L and 3L year.

1L OF THE WEEK

This week's 1L of the Week is more of a shoutout to all the 1Ls running for SBA 1L representatives! Check out the calendar above to see when elections kick-off. Good luck to everyone running, and 1Ls, don't forget to vote!
