A Little Lagniappe

Hello NDLS,

Another week down! At this point, it's been a month since we started on this whole quarantine-away-from-school venture (beginning with Spring Break). I feel like we're all slowly but surely getting the hang of this Zoom School of Law thing!

I don't know about y'all but I welcome some school as a distraction from worry about family, friends, the bar, employment...gosh the list could go on! I'm sure many of you feel much the same way. But I continue to remember, we're all in this together and we're gonna get through it together!

At this point in my quarantine, if I REALLY need a good distraction my siblings have happily volunteered. This weekend's activities included live streaming concerts with my brother and our own personal spa day courtesy of my sister. The weekend culminated in streaming Garth Brooks while all 4 of us donned face masks created by our aspiring dermatologist.

In fact, we cancelled our "themed dinner" this week so Rosemary could help us in our journey towards a complete post-quarantine glow up. Now, we may all wake up with rashes tomorrow because of our facial treatments, but the memory was well worth it! Should anyone want her beauty regimen, she'd love to pass along her tips and tricks!

Don't forget during all this craziness to take advantage of the little bits of fun and happiness that come along!

Until next time!

Stay Golden, NDLS

Questions, Comments, or Concerns?

Have questions regarding the Law School's policies and protocols for the remainder of the semester? Got any suggestions on how to better the process?

Below is a link to the FAQ Form sent to us by Dean O'Rear earlier this month.

There is an option to submit comments anonymously. However, should you wish for the Administration to respond directly to your question, you must include your name and email.

Thank you on behalf of the Administration and the Student Bar Association for any feedback you may provide to help better our system during this complicated time at the Law School!

Lend a Helping Hand

As students of NDLS we are called to be "a different kind of lawyer." One of the ways we live up to this profession is by service to our communities. What better time to help than now?!

Each week, I will include a compilation of links to charities across the country submitted by YOU the students! Send me links to get our efforts rolling! We're all sitting around on our phones all day any way (sorry professors!)--we might as well make ourselves useful!

Meals on Wheels and No Kid Hungry

"As you're well aware, these social distancing policies are taxing on all of us. But this is compounded for elderly people who may find it difficult to feed themselves, and low-income children who had been relying on school to provide one if not two meals a day. There are innumerable ways we, as Americans, can come together and look out for one another over the coming months as COVID-19 continues to upend our lives. These two giving options provide a concrete and meaningful way for those interested to contribute to the effort of fighting the virus and the harm it is causing in everyday people's lives. I know it is hard for us, as law students, to do anything meaningful since we are stuck at home, apart, and buried under the work of law school, so I thought providing an avenue to contribute would be in the spirit of the whole morale-boosting effort which is the MMU."--3L, Sawyer White

US Bartenders' Guild Emergency Grant Assistance Program

"Right now, bartenders can apply for grants in order to help make up for the shortfall due to them being laid off last week with restaurants closing. There is a link on the page to donate as well as a FAQ if anyone knows anyone who could benefit from it. Bartenders also don't need to be members of the guild to apply for this benefit. Thanks!"--2L, Cat Burns

Food Bank of Northern Indiana

The Food Bank of Northern Indiana and Real Services, a meal and grocery delivery service for those in need in South Bend, are in need of help with grocery deliveries and prepared meals to members of our community. If you would like more information on how to help these charities, please reach out to Professor Jim Farrington at jfarring@nd.edu.

Get Us PPE

Get Us PPE is an organization headed by healthcare professionals geared towards getting PPE (personal protection equipment such as masks, gloves, and gowns) to healthcare workers at the frontline of the coronavirus epidemic here in the United States. Unfortunately, there is currently a massive shortage of PPE. Nurses and doctors have already begun contracting the virus; some of whom have died as a result. Our healthcare workers are already under enormous strain as some hospitals are overflowing with COVID-19 cases. They are risking their lives everyday to try and help those already infected and to prevent further spread; they should be as safe as we can make them. Donations will help in that effort. Get Us PPE is currently accepting cash donations as well as donations of actual PPE. Please give what you can.

3L 50 Day Fiesta Toast

Last week we celebrated our 50 Day Fiesta to commemorate our final 50 days at NDLS. Since, we couldn't all gather together at Salsas for our class toast, 3L Rep, Elizabeth Lombard, was kind enough to rally us to a Zoom toast! Below is Elizabeth's toast to the 3L class presented during our Zoom hangout in case you missed it! Thanks Elizabeth!

"Hi everyone! Thanks for joining for a class toast as part of our fifty-day fiesta. Today marks 50 days until our "graduation."

Not being around each other for these last two weeks and not being able to spend our last 50 days together as 3Ls is definitely disappointing, saddening, and not ever what we could have imagined. But I hope that does not dim your sense of pride in yourself, your classmates, and all we have accomplished together.

I want to start out by saying congratulations—what an honor it is to be Notre Dame Law School's very first online law school graduating class. A true accomplishment.

But in all serious, I hope you all know how proud I am to consider myself part of the NDLS Class of 2020. We have accomplished so much in our short three years here, even with 50 days to spare. What have we accomplished? We are class built of moot court champions, future federal and state clerks, future JAG officers, ARS/Ras/Tas (who keep the school running!), Published Authors (14 LR; 8 JLEGG, 2 jlepp, 2 jicl, 1 jett = 30 from the journals alone... by my count!), new parents!., new dog parents, newlyweds, husbands and wives to be!, future prosecutors, future Das, future big law attorneys.

From father mikes of the past I know we are full of talented musicians and comedians. From bowling, softball, and flag football I know we are full of stellar athletes (cough cough flag football allstars), We have Corbies/Finnies/CJs regulars, ND football fanatics, and most important, in my book, good friends and good people.

I wish we could all lift our oversized margaritas together at salsas right now, but in lieu of that lift whatever drink you have in front of you and cheers to the Class of 2020 and our last fifty days as 3Ls. I am so happy to call myself your classmate. Sending you love, health, and happiness.

Go Irish!"

Keep Calm and Carry On

As I'm sure we have all found by this point...self-isolation is BORING! Luckily, your weekly MMU is here to help! Thanks to my good pal, Mark Relation, we have hit the jackpot on links to activities you can do from home. Thank you, Mark, for keeping us all sane!

Corona Quarantine Check-in

With self-isolation as our new norm, keep in touch through the MMU! Hunkered down in South bend? Living the life at your parents' house? Send us a pic and a little blurb about where you're finishing out the rest of your Spring 2020 Semester.

Include your siblings, your pets, or even your parents--get creative!

Professor O'Connell is adjusting to the work from home life (with a little help from her husband!). Though her bulldog, Oscar, somewhat disapproves of her new teaching style. See Oscar's pic below.

In honor of what would have been Father Mike week, Professor Garnett provided us with this throwback of his band Learned Hand before they performed in Father Mike 2019!

I am happy to report that it seems Professor McKenna is alive and well and on the "Tiger King" train. I'd say his students are in for some entertaining lectures!

Pet Pics!

Since we're all working from home now it's "Bring your Pet to School Day" every day!

Send me pictures of your cat, dog, fish, hamster, rabbit, chicken, lizard, etc. with the pet's name and I'll share them with the world!

Professor O'Connell's pup Oscar is not too sure about this whole "work from home" situation.

Nermal is an excellent social-distancing practitioner!

Doggie and Vashta Nerada really don't know what to do with themselves now that the humans are always home!

Eugene is an excellent leg warmer while his hooman is in class.

Mallory Reader's new co-worker Bridger clearly disapproves of these books invading his home.
