Fall break potluck tomorrow

Don't forget the Fall Break Staff Potluck this Wednesday, October 19th. It will be held 12:00 – 1:00 p.m. in the Faculty Meeting Room. The Law School will provide punch and a main dish (probably chicken). Please bring a dish to share.

New faces at NDLS

We'd like to extend a warm welcome to Leslie Berg, whose first day working at the Law School was yesterday, October 17th. Leslie fills the vacancy left by Nicole Bourbon and will be Faculty Administrative Assistant to Professors Mary Ellen O'Connell, Bill Kelly, Jimmy Gurule, Patty O'Hara, and Peg Brinig. Please stop by Suite 2110 to welcome Leslie to the NDLS family!

And that's the way it is . . .

The library's Law Library News was featured in the September/October 2011 issue of the American Association of Law Libraries' magazine AALL Spectrum in an article on page 17 that highlights the winners of the 2011 "Excellence in Marketing" awards.

Happy birthday this week to:

- Judy Fox (Oct 19th)
- Paul Peralta (Oct 21st)
- Robert Palmer (Oct 23rd)
- Amy Shirk (Oct 24th)

Help! What happened to my e-mail?

e_mail

A configuration change was made to the e-mail system on Monday, October 17th. System administrators identified a chronic problem – we all receive and send too much e-mail! Since many of us retain tens of thousands of messages in our Inbox and Sent Items folders, the mail server is just not capable of constantly indexing these items for all the computers, smartphones and iPads that are connecting to it, at least not without significant negative impact to the stability of the system. To remedy this, our Inbox and Sent Items folders will be managed by moving messages older than 180 days into a new managed folder. This managed folder will have a subfolder called “Older Mailbox Items” and this will contain our messages older than 180 days in separate Inbox and Sent Items folders. If you have subfolders included in your Inbox, the whole folder structure will be included in the Managed Folder. No messages will be deleted in this process and these folders are still on the server, so you will be able to access them from your favorite e-mail programs. Messages will be moved to the Managed Folder on Sunday of each week. Further details can be found here. If you have questions about any of this please contact Dan Manier at 574-631-3939 or manier@nd.edu.
