About seven thousand service members were killed in the wars in Afghanistan and Iraq. Many of us in the Notre Dame Veteran community have experienced the loss of a friend and fellow Soldier, Airman, Marine, and Sailor. To honor these men and women, and the lives of so many others, the Military and Veteran Law Society is hosting "Lap the Lakes: A Run to Support Mission 22 at Notre Dame." For 22 hours straight from 6pm on September 16th to 4pm on September 17th, members of the Notre Dame community will be running and walking around St. Joseph's and St. Mary's Lake to raise awareness of the mental and physical battle that veterans continue to fight on the homefront and to raise funds for Mission 22, an organization that helps veterans and their families in that fight.

You can sign up HERE to participate as a runner, and you can donate to support our cause HERE.

SPORT REPORT:

Happy Monday ND,

I know I said this last week but I can actually say it with joy this week – what a week!! I am 100% here for the chaos. I mean, week 3 and already Clemson and Ohio State are barely hanging on to their playoff hopes. Ohio State still has a path – run the table and beat Iowa(?) in the title game. If we lived in fair world, aka a world without the AP voters, Clemson’s season would be done. However, they will waltz through the completion (I use this term very, very loosely), and the voters will once again act as if Dabo Sweeny is the second coming of Bear Bryant. My heart says I’m wrong but my head says I’m right. Notre Dame, we have ISSUES. Serious issues that I’m not confident can be resolved in a week. The vulnerability in the center of our defense is inexcusable. If we play any team with like a single, very average slot receiver, I guarantee you that receiver puts himself into the Heisman conversation with that single game alone. This is not dramatic – we’ve had two games now with a complete inability to lock down the center of the field. And might I remind everyone that FSU just lost to the esteemed, legendary, iconic . . . JACKSONVILLE STATE. We literally went to overtime with a team who lost to Jacksonville State. Let it sink in.

I’ll balance the negatives with a positive – Texas is not back. In the iconic words of Regina George, “stop trying to make [Texas] happen, it will never happen.” Welcome to the SEC, longhorns, you literally asked for this. Speaking of SEC, I would’ve loved to watch Texas A&M lose to Colorado. I think I should be nice and say “oh, but they lost their quarterback in the first quarter” but I’m not going to be. A&M, when you lose a quarterback, you still have, idk, a running game? Except they didn’t, because they rushed for 97 yards against Colorado.

If you’ll allow me to briefly switch gears to the NFL – Trevor Lawrence, how does your fifth loss ever feel? Probably awful, given that you threw three interceptions and got outplayed in your NFL debut by, dare I say, Zack Wilson. Cue the official Trevor Lawrence fraternity saying, “but he’s a generational player! look at the numbers!!” Wilson was running for his life all game, sacked six times and he only threw one interception. Since we’re on the topic of rookies, I owe Ja’Marr Chase the biggest apology, although we’re 100% even because I benched him in fantasy and he finished with 20 points.

I’ll conclude with the fact that I think it’s hilarious how bad the Packers played. Literally exited the building with half of the game left to play. The look on Aaron Rodgers’ face was priceless because you just know that he was remembering how close to retirement he was. He was literally living in Hawaii with celebrities a month ago and now he’s getting embarrassed by none other than Jameis Winston. What a way to go.

Geaux Irish,

Ashley

1L OF THE WEEK:

Our 1L of the Week is Arienne L. Calingo! Arienne's interview is nothing short of entertaining. Buy her a tea when you see here?? I don't understand what you non-coffee drinkers do with your free time.

2Ls TAKING Ls:

This week's "2l taking Ls" story comes from our little fashionista, Dillon Yang. What Dillon lacks in height, he makes up for in his chiseled quads. Grab this man a bev when you see him @ the next tailgate, but don't let him send any messages to the groupme.

Now for our feature presentation:

First week of 1L, I was vibing to the good weather and riding my bike from overlook to class in the morning. I was not utilizing the handle bars, and I was on my phone scrolling through Spotify. I ran right into a vehicle gate, and flipped off my bike completely. As I was on the ground, I saw that the whole women's soccer team was training and stopped to see my massive collision. I jumped up quickly and biked away. But, as I got to the law school, I quickly realized that my airpods had fell out. So the women's soccer team watched me bike back and look for my AirPods for about 3 minutes, and bike back to make just to make it to contracts with Velasco all bloody and scraped up. Sometimes when I go around that area and look at the vehicle gate, it is still a little bit crooked. You can go check it out for yourself.

Blake Hale, you're next.

ASK A 3L:

This week's 3L feature is the beautiful, Bridget McConville!!! If you see her around, buy her a coffee to thank her savvy fashion advice.

Question: Dear Bridget, what are the fall wardrobe must haves? Does South Bend have a mall? I'm concerned.

3L Advice: University Park Mall is in Mishawaka, but it's not that great in my opinion. I stick to online shopping. The weather here changes quickly, and it always feels like we only have a few weeks of fall before it gets freezing. I'd recommend investing in winter clothes earlier than you think (especially if you're from the South).

Submit your questions to next week's 3L, Carter Wietecha, below.
