Correction:

The general announcements under the CDO heading are from last week (apologies, I blame my lack of sleep). Further, the SBA 1L Election info session will take place this Friday at 12:30 PM. Location is TBA. If you cannot attend this meeting, a second info session will be held Monday, September 13th.

Thanks,

Mary A.

GENERAL ANNOUNCEMENTS:

Student Football Tickets:

Notre Dame student football tickets are now available for the upcoming 2021 season! In order to purchase your season ticket, you will need to activate your online ticket account. Check your student email for more details. The deadline to purchase your student season tickets is Tuesday, September 7.

Galilee:

Galilee is looking for 2L & 3L mentors. Please email Amanda Walsh, Dominique Marino, Maria Rossi, or Erica Patterson if you are interested.

Kresge Law Library:

The Kresge Law Library now provides access to Westlaw UK, a database focusing on UK caselaw, legislation, and commentary. It also includes some EU materials. You can log into at this link using the same credentials you use for the U.S. version of Westlaw. The U.S. and UK versions of Westlaw offer similar functionality, and you can learn more about how to use it on the Westlaw UK: training and support page. Email askus@nd.edu your questions about using Westlaw UK or researching UK legal issues. Get links!!

The Writing Center

The WRITING CENTER schedule is now open for the semester! Appointments begin next Tuesday, 9/7. Make an appointment today using our online appointment scheduled HERE.

The Writing Center offers free, one-on-one consultations for undergraduates, graduate students, postdoctoral fellows, and faculty on any aspect of the writing process. Whether you're a first-year student drafting a research paper, a doctoral candidate working on a dissertation, or a faculty member preparing a manuscript for publication, we will read your work carefully, listen closely to your concerns, and help you develop a plan to express your ideas clearly and effectively.

We work with writers at ALL levels from ANY discipline at ANY stage in the writing process.

Both in-person and remote consultations are available this semester. We look forward to seeing you at the Writing Center!

Health & Wellness Center:

Wellness in Mind - Need some support? Remember that your Wellness Consultant, Stella Miller, is here for you. Drop her a line at stella.miller@nd.edu or make an appointment at www.calendly.com/stellamiller.

Also, we encourage you to be mindful of the relaxation resources available at the McDonald Center for Student Well-Being. These include yoga, Koru Mindfulness, the Sleep Program, and restorative spaces like the Living Room, Break Room, and Fort. Health support services are always available at University Health Services and the University Counseling Center.

Intramural Sports Are Back for Faculty, Staff and Graduate Students

RecSports is happy to announce that graduate, faculty and staff leagues are back for intramural sports. Click here for more info.

Note to 1Ls:

Piece of advice for 1Ls...connect with your professors! Stop by their office hours, ask to grab coffee, or send them a nice email. NDLS has some of the best law professors in the world and they'd love to get to know you. The relationships you build with them is unlike any other.

Lap the Lakes: A Run to Support Mission 22 at Notre Dame:

About seven thousand service members were killed in the wars in Afghanistan and Iraq. That number, however, is much higher when you consider that over six thousand veterans, many of whom served in support of the wars in the Middle East, die by suicide every year. Many of us in the Notre Dame Veteran community have experienced the loss of a friend and fellow Soldier, Airman, Marine, and Sailor. To honor these men and women, and the lives of so many others, the Military and Veteran Law Society is hosting "Lap the Lakes: A Run to Support Mission 22 at Notre Dame." For 22 hours straight from 6pm on September 16th to 4pm on September 17th, members of the Notre Dame community will be running and walking around St. Joseph's and St. Mary's Lake to raise awareness of the mental and physical battle that veterans continue to fight on the homefront and to raise funds for Mission 22, an organization that helps veterans and their families in that fight.

You can sign up HERE to participate as a runner, and you can donate to support our cause HERE.

If you or a friend are in need of help, please call the National Suicide Prevention Line at 1-800-273-8255.

Building an Anti-Racist Vocabulary: Exploiting Diversity:

Join the Klau Center for Civil and Human Rights on Friday, September 10 at 12:30 PM via zoom as Nancy Leong, professor of law, University of Denver, and author of Identity Capitalists, explores the exploitation of identity politics. Register HERE

ITA Jurors Needed

Professor Conway wants to remind students to sign up to volunteer as jurors for Intensive Trial Advocacy's trials on Saturday, September 25 and Sunday, September 26 at the St. Joseph County Courthouse in South Bend. Participation on both days is not required. Lunch will be provided. All participants will receive priority registration for ITA for the semester of their choosing. Please fill out this form HERE to sign up, and email Annika at anielsen@nd.edu with any questions.

Invitation to All Student Groups:

Upload your organization's event poster to this Google Drive folder. We'll put your poster on the Law Library e-board. (Read the details in the How to Use this Folder document.)

Graduate Speaker Series

Please join us on Monday, September 6 from 12:30-1:30pm EST in room 1310 Biolchini Hall for an in-person lecture with Leigha Crout. Lunch and beverages will be provided.

Leigha Crout (NDLS J.D. 2016, Int'l Human Rights LL.M. 2017) is a Senior C.V. Starr Lecturer at Peking University's School of Transnational Law in Shenzhen, China and a Research Associate with Oxford University's China, Law and Development Project. She presently teaches a course on Transnational Legal Practice and a seminar on Comparative Constitutional Law. Her primary research interests lie in modern developments in Chinese constitutional law and correlated human rights issues. In this discussion, Leigha will share her experience living and working as an academic in the PRC and detail the unique challenges faced by domestic and foreign human rights attorneys in a high-censorship climate.

SPORT REPORT:

Hello again NDLS,

I want to say “wow! what a great weekend of college football,” because I know, objectively, that we had some great games – HOWEVER, I am currently working through the five stages of grief after LSU’s abysmal performance. That being said, I still have /thoughts/. Re Georgia v. Clemson, I feel as though I owe Kirby Smart an apology – I truly thought UGA would get massacred. I still reserve the right to point out that defense 100% won that game and Smart still has the same lackluster passing game. I am super thrilled that Dabo will not make it to another playoff purely for the fact that we don’t have to hear his “the little old Clemson that could” speech when he complains about his hotel accommodations/AP ranking during press conferences.

I have to shout out Tulane and also rant about Oklahoma. Tulane, good for you for almost taking down the number 2 team in the country with like 0 practice because of Hurricane Ida. Seriously played to win and I respect the energy. Oklahoma, how the actual hell do you let that happen?? I get it, Lincoln Riley, you literally have to google the word “defense” but Spencer Rattler saying Tulane was “one of the hardest hitting teams” he’s ever played is everything wrong with the Big 12. Stop letting the Sooners into the playoff conversation! Now onto my campaign to fire Ed Orgeron. I literally have 0 words to describe how I feel about that game – the only person who might understand is the actual captain of the Titanic because we are both loyal to sinking ships. How do you rush for FORTY-NINE yards against UCLA?? Why is your defense surprised when /Chip Kelly/ has some bizarre pre-snap formation?? How do you have a top five recruiting class and finish with a losing record (because at this point, we might)?? If you want the answers to these questions, ask Ed O.

Notre Dame, I also have some concerns. I get that Florida State is a hostile environment but our rushing defense evidently decided not to make the trip to Tallahassee. If anything, they ran over us more in the second half which has me wondering what the h kind of adjustments Marcus Freeman was trying to make. Jack Coan did just enough that the ESPN commentators are gonna say “wow, he’s so accurate! he’s calm and collected! he’s in control!” but he made his receivers work way too hard to catch literal screen passes. Credit for those two beautiful longer throws in the third quarter but the operative word there is /two/. I get that this sounds harsh but 1. it’s true and 2. Brian Kelly literally called for the team to be executed in a post-game interview so I’m not the only one with these concerns.

Keep your eyes peeled for my GoFundMe to buy out Coach O’s contract,

Ashley

1L OF THE WEEK:

Our 1L of the Week is Jazmyn Ferguson! Jazmyn was an absolute joy to speak with and deserves a s'mores flavored latte for enduring her first few weeks of 1L with a smile on her face.

Q. Where are you from and where did you go to undergrad?

A. Saint Louis (home of my favorite baseball team go cards!) and Mizzou.

Q. What's your favorite STL delicacy

A. Gooney-butter cake from Park Ave Coffee. I'm obsessed with it. Actually, my favorite ice-cream flavor is the gooney-butter cake from Ginny's.

* If you ever get the opportunity to try gooney butter cake: run, don't walk. You can thank me later!!!*

Q. Controversial question. Do you think it is acceptable to drink the cereal milk after a bowl?

A. Absolutely. I did that this morning. BUT I do love milk straight up as well.

Q. If you could have any super power, what would you want and why?

A. Fly. I am a fast walker and I absolutely hate being stuck behind slow people on the sidewalk (I'm looking at you undergrads). Flying would make my life so much easier.

Q. Toilet paper over or under?

A. Over. 100%. I'm not kidding if I'm over at someone's house, I will flip it. They don't notice

Q. What is your #1 pet peeve?

A. I hate when people eat my food. ESPECIALLY if someone takes a fry from my plate without asking. I will fume. I am so serious about my fries.

Personally relate to this. For the people: don't ask for a bite of someone's food before they've taken their first bite. Let's do better people.

Q. What did you want to be when you were growing up?

A. Anchor on the Today Show. I really love it. They have so much fun and get paid to drink wine at 7am.

Q. Chick-fil-A, Cane's, or Zaxby's?

A. Mishawaka Chick-fil-A is slow, but has my heart. In order from best to worst I would say: Chick-fil-A, Cane's, Zaxby's.

Q. Anything else you'd like to tell your fans?

A. I love anything s'mores flavored (s'mores frappe, s'mores poparts, etc.) so if you're looking for someone to roast marshmallows with as sweater weather approaches, I'm your girl!

Q. Who should be next week's 1L of the week?

A. Arienne Calingo!

* = Editor's Commentary*

2Ls TAKING Ls:

This week's "2l taking Ls" story comes from our little hawaiian flower, Noah Rosenberg. If you don't already know Noah, maybe skip shaking his hand? Read below. Noah is a true gem. I don't know if I've ever seen this man stressed, a rarity in law school! Buy Noah a cold drink when you see him and ask him to play you a song on his ukulele!

Now for our feature presentation:

First, I'd like to take the time to not thank Malcolm for the nomination. My story strays away from the dreadfulness of trekking back to campus, and toward the happy misery that is caring for a new puppy.

My story begins last winter when my family decided it was time to get a new puppy. Our golden retriever had passed away a year earlier, and we decided we were finally ready for a german shepherd. Anyone who has raised a dog knows that there are some very real frustrations that accompany getting a puppy... namely, the struggle of potty training.

Okay, fast forward a few days after picking up our new family member, Josie. It's family game night, and we're spread out on the nice living room white rug playing Ticket to Ride. I've got Josie sitting up on my lap as if she's looking at the cards in my hand. Suddenly, I feel a warm sensation in my hand and I stand up to make sure she's not peeing on me... and instantly realized it would have been lucky to just get peed on.

So, here I am standing above this nice rug holding Josie up and I see this string of doggy no-no hanging down, a single clench away from falling out of her butt. I had two options: (1) let her drop a deuce on the white rug, or (2) take one for the team and catch the poop. I look down at my hand and see I already have a brown turd in my palm, and before I could think through my decision, I found myself catching the rest of it in a swirl like chocolate soft serve. The end.

Dillon Yang, you're next.

ASK A 3L:

This week's 3L feature is the beautiful, Melat Kiros!!! If you see her around, buy her a coffee to thank her for the sage advice.

Question: Hi Melat. Getting used to the law school life has not been easy and I find myself feeling guilty for literally not making a ham sandwich fast enough. How can I stay as productive as possible without feeling guilty for not living in the library? Help a sister out!!!

3L Advice: Please do not feel guilty about not making a ham sandwich fast enough! I consider myself a chronic procrastinator so take this advice with a grain of salt, but you have to remember that you won't be nearly as productive in the library as you'd like to be if you're not taking the time to take care of yourself. Eat well, sleep well, and do whatever activities make you happy (with time management, of course). Otherwise you'll end up in the library looking like a zombie and find yourself rereading the same paragraph 5 times because you can't focus. Take care of yourself and the rest will follow! Good luck!

Great advice May! Submit your questions to next week's 3L, Bridget McConville, below.
