GENERAL ANNOUNCEMENTS:

NDLS Fall Ball:

Coming soon! All NDLS students are invited to attend and may bring a plus 1. Be on the look out for more information regarding time and tickets!

Galilee:

Galilee is looking for 2L & 3L mentors. Please email Amanda Walsh, Dominique Marino, Maria Rossi, or Erica Patterson if you are interested.

Church, State & Society Reading Group:

The Church State & Society Reading Group will be offered again this year. For those who are new, the CSS Reading Group is a fun and informal book club that meets once or twice over lunch each semester. The group is open to all NDLS students, and you can read more about our Program on our web page found HERE.

This fall, we will be reading The Forum and the Tower by Ambassador Mary Ann Glendon. And, yes, Ambassador Glendon is still planning to visit us this semester to deliver the inaugural Rice-Hasson lecture. The event will be held at 12:30pm on November 17th in the courtroom, and I hope you can all make it! More info HERE.

If you are interested in joining the

Notre Dame Pre-Law Society:

The undergrad Pre-Law Society is hosting a kickoff meet-n-greet event on Tuesday, August 31, at 5:00 pm in the Duncan Student Center. They are looking for a few more 3L volunteers to attend this event, mingle with the Pre-Law students, and answer any questions they have about law school. If you are interested in volunteering, please email Mary Mancusi at mmancusi@nd.edu.

NDLS Running Club:

The Athletics Committee of the SBA has put together a NDLS Running Group. We will be sending out running-related information like upcoming races, training tips, and opportunities to meet up in person for group runs (including one this Saturday!) Life at law school can be stressful, and outdoor exercise is a great release. All experience levels are encouraged to join! If you're interested and not already on the email list from last year, you can sign up HERE. Please feel free to reach out to Lindsey Schmidt at lschmid7@nd.edu with any questions.

Invitation to All Student Groups:

Upload your organization's event poster to this Google Drive folder. We'll put your poster on the Law Library e-board. (Read the details in the How to Use this Folder document.)

CDO:

First Generation Professionals Professor Panel

Join NDLS faculty who are first generation professionals for lunch and a panel discussion Tuesday, August 31 at 12:30 PM in 1130 Eck Hall of Law. Panelists include Professor Nicole Garnett, Professor Julian Velasco, Professor Sadie Blanchard, Professor Sean Seymore and Professor Randy Kozel.

Reading Group, please take this brief survey HERE.

Kresge Law Library:

Course Reserves

The Kresge Law Library provides course reserves in multiple formats. Even if they are recommended rather than required, consulting reserves can help you master course material and stand out as a strong student. Many course reserves are available electronically, and those will be accessible via the course pages (on Sakai or Canvas). If your professor has placed physical material on reserve, you may request those items at the Circulation Desk during posted open hours:

M-Th: 8am-9pm

F: 8am-6pm

Sat: 12pm-6pm

Sun: 12pm-9pm

The blue binder at the Circulation Desk lists physical reserves by instructor. It also lists various study guides kept on reserve for student use. Reserve items may be checked out for two hours, but because they are meant to be used by many students in the same timeframe, they cannot be renewed.

Bookeye Scanner

The Kresge Law Library's Bookeye scanner is available any time the Circulation Desk is open. You can find it in Room 2317 to the right of the Circulation Desk.

- Scan text or images to searchable pdf, pdf, doc, jpg, png, or mp3 (yes, text to audio!).
- Send by email or save to your flash drive.
- The flat scanning bed adjusts to a v-position to cradle a large textbook.
- Simple instructions are posted on the tabletop in the room.

Health & Wellness Center:

Wellness in Mind - Need some support?

RSVP on Irishlink. Pizza will be served

Resume Workshop 1

Bring your laptop for this working session to prepare your law school resume on Wednesday, September 1, 8:00 AM -- 9:00 AM in 2108 Eck Hall of Law. RSVP on Irishlink. Limited to 20 people

Resume Workshop 2

Bring your laptop for this working session to prepare your law school resume on Thursday, September 2, 12:30 pm in 3108 Eck Hall of Law. RSVP on Irishlink. Limited to 20 people and pizza will be served.

International and Graduate Programs Office

Fall 2021 Reception

The International and Graduate Programs Office is delighted to invite you to its annual reception on Thursday, September 2nd from 5-6:30 pm. Every year, a few weeks after the arrival on campus of our international and graduate students, we welcome our students and gather our international community at the Law School together for a special reception. This informal reception is an opportunity for international and graduate students to meet faculty with their own international experiences in a welcoming atmosphere, and a forum in which to celebrate the global expertise and international presence of our law school community on campus. This year we are so happy to host our annual welcome reception in person in our Library's South Reading Room. We will serve light appetizers and drinks. All members of the J.D. class are welcome! Please RSVP HERE. We hope you will join us at this great event!

Graduate Speaker Series

Join the International & Graduate Program for a guest speaker series that meets on Mondays at 12:30 PM throughout the fall semester. Dates and speaker details are below. Monday, August 30 Dr. Mohamed Ibrahim will speak on working with the United Nations in conflict and post conflict environments in the field of Rule of Law. Zoom information found HERE (Meeting ID: 968 3159 8087 Passcode: 278230).

SBA Club Fair:

SBA will be hosting a Club Fair Thursday Sept. 2nd from 4:30 to 6:30 PM in the Commons. To register your club or organization, fill out the form found HERE. The deadline for registration is 12:00 PM EST. Please note any organization's outside guests will be

SPORT REPORT:

Hello again NDLS,

CFB started not with a bang but with a whimper. Nebraska continued its ~new~ tradition of embarrassing its storied history. Yes, they almost managed a second-half comeback against Illinois but it's clear that Scott Frost is not the coach they need. The Illini get props for winning with a backup QB from Rutgers, of all places. Who knew there was a single person from that program capable of throwing a spiral??

UCLA vs Hawaii was an absolute joke but one I'm mildly concerned about? Yes, Hawaii is god awful and always jet-lagged beyond belief but any team that wins 44-10 (with Hawaii's lone touchdown coming in garbage time) is not a team that I, an LSU fan, am eager to open up my season with coming off of last year's spectacular 5-5 record.

The biggest game this coming week - Clemson opens their season against Georgia. I personally think that the Tigers are doing us all a favor by humbling Georgia in the first week of their season; that way we are saved from watching them choke once again in a playoff berth. Sure, Georgia might keep it competitive but honestly, I will never trust Kirby Smart to do anything but run both the ball and his team into the ground. The man is still playing with an offensive scheme fresh out of the 1990s.

On the pro side of things, the only thing I have to comment on is the fact that running backs are dropping like flies this season (RIP JK Dobbins). This especially concerns me because I drafted Najee Harris and Alvin Kamara on my fantasy team. I no longer trust Najee not to hurdle himself to an ACL tear (@Steelers why are you still letting him do this???) and Alvin Kamara will be carrying New Orleans on his back this season so I bet it literally breaks by week 6. If anyone has a sleeper RB pick, let me know.

Geaux Irish,

Ashley

1L OF THE WEEK:

Our 1L of the Week is Aly Arencibia! Aly is the SWEETEST and deserves a PSL for wearing a suit throughout her first week of 1L in 90 degree weather. You go Aly.

Q. Where are you from? Anything you miss particularly?

A. Miami, Florida. Not Ohio (ew). I miss my family and dogs: a chocolate lab named Beau and a poodle named milo.

Q. Where did you go for undergrad?

A. University of Miami. My parents graduated from there, and I actually worked my butt off to finish early so I could graduate with my older brother in 2020.

Q. What's one misconception you had about law school?

A. I suffered through last week in blazers (hot af) because I thought law students dressed to the 10s. Not true, but Dean Cole preached about the importance of professional wear, so you won't find me in sweats at least for his class.

Q. Go to "binge watching" series on Netflix?

A. Chicas Del Cable (The Cable Girls). It's about the rise of feminism and women's rights during the Franco dictatorship in Spain.

Q. Would you rather travel the rest of your life (staying in one place for no more than a month) or never leave your home state again?

A. Travel. If I had all the money in the world you'd never see me again. I'd love to go back San Sebastian, Spain.

Q. What is your favorite way to eat a potato?

A. Waffle French fries from Chick-fil-a

Aly believes Chick-fil-a is superior to Cane's. I prefer Zaxby's, but her Southern tastebuds probably reign superior to mine.

Q. If You Could Choose Your Own Nickname, What Would It Be?

A. Al – everyone calls me Al. My mom actually calls me McAlister. I have no idea why, but you can imagine her excitement when she saw McAlister's Deli for the first time in South Bend.

Q. Destination weddings... how do we feel about them?

A. For the boujee. If (or when) I am a rich lawyer, I'll have one. Bahamas isn't that far from Miami if we are being real.

Q. Hot coffee or iced coffee?

A. Hot outside – cold coffee. Cold outside – warm coffee. Although you'll see me in line for the Pumpkin Spice Latte as soon as its available no matter how hot it is outside.

Am I the only one that doesn't like the PSL??? Pumpkins belong on your front porch, not in your coffee cup. Take my White Girl card away idc.

Q. Anything else you'd like to tell your fans?

A. Omg please say hi to me if you see me! I love meeting and talking to new ppl. It makes me happy:)

Q. Who should be next week's 1L of the week?

A. Jazmyn Ferguson!

* = Editor's Commentary*

2Ls TAKING Ls:

This week's 2L story comes from our wonderful Malcolm Chaka. If you don't already know Malcolm, the 1L girls do. You'll catch him riding on his longboard to class, occasionally in a dapper suit. Malcolm, we love you and we are so glad you made it back to the states on time for ITA. This man deserves a refreshing adult beverage for his dedication to NDLS. Buy him one when you see him!

Now for our feature presentation:

First, I'd like to take a second to thank Davis Lovvorn for the nomination(?). Luckily, like my man Lemony Snicket, I'm fresh off an unfortunate series of L's I hope at least a few you can get a chuckle out of. I'm sure we're all a little too familiar with the dreadful experience that is the fall semester expedition back to school. Let's get this story started.

I decided to visit an old friend in Cape Town at the end of the summer. After a fun five days, it was time to head back. After attempting to clear customs for my return to Atlanta, I was told the U.S consulate was denying my entry due to a student visa restriction. I had to quarantine in an approved country for 14 days despite being vaccinated and having two negative tests! Only one thing is on my mind: I start ITA in about 36 hours, and I can't miss an entire week of school! After being stuck at the airport overnight, I decided I might as well get halfway home and head to Europe—so I did just that. Looked at the earliest flight, saw Paris, and “_(‘)___/”. Wake up in Paris; I still have heard nothing from the U.S Consulate (I know, there are probably worse places to be stuck).

At this point, its Saturday, class has started, and I need to figure something out quickly. I look at the departure screen and see a noon flight to Toronto. Boom! No way my home country won't let me back in, right? Made it back to Toronto around 5 PM that same day. Now I know a couple of things; the US-Canada border is closed so that nobody can drive me. I quickly look up any buses going to Detroit. Oh, they're all out of business? The train! An hour after I land? Let's go. I convinced a friend to pick me up from the airport and drop me off at the train station. After being extorted $200 from my little brother, he agrees to pick me up from the Detroit border where they eventually told me I should never have been denied!

Finally, the home stretch. I drop my brother off at Michigan State and head to South Bend.

5 AM; I'll be able to make it to Sunday's class! Nope. Roommate locked me out, so I find myself in Blake Hale's spare bedroom for a nap. Show up to ITA three hours later with no suit, but I think my 72 last hours of chaos were evident. S/O to Prof. Conway for letting me figure my life out for a few hours!

As the saying goes, "no one needs a vacation as much as the person who just had one." Noah Rosenberg, you're next.

ASK A 3L:

This week's 3L feature is our beloved SBA VP, Saiful Islam!!! Saif always has a smile on his face. We need more people like that in the world. Buy him a coffee when you see him and thank him for his service.

Question: Our 1L professors assured us that we will learn to "think like a lawyer" throughout the semester. Can I use this dark magic against my significant other or is that frowned upon? If so, how do we turn it off lol

3L Advice: I don't know how I feel about the word "against" but if you mean should you use your abilities to "think like a lawyer" to make good arguments during an argument sure! Also I don't know how to turn off anything in my head except the ability to read when

I sit at my desk 🤔

Thanks Saif! Submit your questions to next week's 3L, Melat Kiros, below.
