Week of July 7 2015

News and Notes

Welcome Margaret Lloyd to NDLS! Margaret is the new LL.M. Student Services Program Director. Her office is 2156 Eck Hall of Law.

Rick Garnett was quoted in the The Denver Post article Douglas County school voucher supporters eye bigger legal fight on July 5.

Bruce Huber was quoted in the UtilityDive article What the Supreme Court MATS ruling means for utilities and the EPA Clean Power Plan on July 2.

The Office of Campus Safety will test the campus-wide public address system Wednesday, July 8 at 9:00 a.m. as part of a regular assessment of the ND Alert system. The test, which will initiate all interior building and external common area speakers, will last approximately 1 minute. They will not activate the remainder of the ND Alert system (e.g. text messages, e-mail, etc.).

Nell is a top 10 walker for June in the Walk this Way Summer challenge. She walked 304,105 steps. Congratulations to Nell!

PEOPLE GOTTA EAT

United Way of St. Joseph County's initiative, People Gotta Eat, is an effort to help those in our community without the means to eat or to secure adequate food for their families. United Way of St. Joseph County works with 12 area food pantries to raise money to keep the pantries stocked and to develop a cohesive plan to effectively address systemic food distribution in our community.

Donate today and help fill our local food pantries! Our blue donation barrels are currently at the following Martin's Supermarket locations in St. Joseph County:
