Fees and Expenses

Fees

The fees required by the University may be classified as annual, incidental and optional. The annual fees are the following: (1) A tuition fee of $200, payable in two installments of $100 each in September and January of each year of residence; (2) A library and entertainment fee of $10.00, payable in September of each year; (3) An athletic fee of $10.00, payable in September of each year. The library and entertainment fee admits the student to all special lectures, concerts and other entertainments under University auspices during the year, and to the use of the general and departmental libraries. The athletic fee gives the student the use of the gymnasium and admits him to all intercollegiate contests during the year.

The incidental fees are: (1) A matriculation fee of $10.00, payable once only, when the student is admitted to the University; (2) A graduation fee of $10.00, payable once only, when the student receives his Bachelor's degree. The graduation fee for the Master's degree is $15.00, and for the Doctor's degree, $25.00.

The optional fees include laboratory fees, charged in certain courses in science and engineering, and special tuition fees, charged in certain courses in fine arts. Such fees are enumerated in connection with the catalog descriptions of the courses in which they are required.

Room Rental

The University has lodging accommodations for about 2,000 students; other students must secure rooms in private houses in South Bend. These may be rented at rates ranging from $2.50 to $6.00 the week. The University Registrar keeps in his office a list of approved rooms for residence in the city. The charges for lodging on the campus are as follows:

- Rooms in Freshman Hall $2.00 the week
- Rooms in Howard Hall $4.50 the week
- Rooms in Morrissey Hall $5.00 the week
- Rooms in Lyons Hall $5.00 the week
- Rooms in Sophomore Hall $3.00 the week
- Rooms in Walsh Hall $3.75 to $8.00 the week
- Rooms in Badin Hall $2.50 to $4.00 the week
- Rooms in Corby Hall $2.50 to $4.00 the week
- Rooms in Sorin Hall $2.50 to $3.50 the week
- Dormitory space in Brownson and Carroll Halls, $60.00 the year

Sorin Hall is reserved for Seniors, Corby for Juniors, and Badin for Sophomores and Juniors. Walsh Hall is open to classmen of any year, as are also Carroll and Brownson. Howard Hall is reserved for Freshmen.

Meals

The University maintains a dining hall, located on the first floor of the Administration Building. There is also a cafeteria under private management, located on the first floor of Badin Hall. Students living in South Bend have access to a variety of restaurants in the city. The charge for board in the University dining hall is $375.00 the year. Students living on the campus who desire either cheaper or more expensive meals may patronize the cafeteria, but may not change from the University dining hall except at the beginning of a semester. All Freshmen are required to take their meals in the University Dining Hall.

Other Expenses

The University maintains a laundry, which the students may patronize at their option, or they may make use of the laundry facilities of South Bend. The charge for laundry service at the University may be estimated at $15.00 the semester. No credit for books, stationery, clothing and other articles for sale on the campus will be given.

Regulations Governing Payments

The necessary annual and incidental fees, together with optional fees, and such other expenses as the student may wish to incur (room, board, laundry, etc.), must be paid when the student enters in September. It is impossible for the University to make exception to this rule. No rebate will be allowed for late entrance.

The charge of $100 the semester for tuition is accepted as an entirety and will not be refunded in whole or in part if the student be dismissed for wilful infraction of the University regulations, nor in the event of his withdrawing from the University at any time without proper permission. An exception is made if it seems expedient for him to go home because of protracted illness.

No student will be registered for the second semester whose account for the first semester has not been adjusted, nor will a degree be conferred on a student under such circumstances, nor a transcript given of his academic credits.

Semester bills and other accounts are subject to sight draft if not paid within ten days after they have been rendered.

Remittance should be made by draft or by postal or express money order, payable to the order of the University of Notre Dame. Checks on local banks are not desired and the cost of exchange will be charged for all such checks.

SCHOLARSHIPS AND PRIZES

The University has the bestowal of a number of scholarships and prizes among which the following are of especial interest to students in the College of Law:

The Rev. Thomas Carroll Scholarship. Established March 12, 1895, by a bequest of $5,000 from the Reverend Thomas Carroll, of Oil City, Pennsylvania. The income from this fund is used in helping a worthy student from the Diocese of Erie, Pennsylvania, (preference in the selection being given to students from St. Joseph's Parish, Oil City), to secure an education in one of the colleges of the University. This scholarship, worth $300 a year, is awarded, as a vacancy occurs, to a student beginning his college course and may be held by him for four years, provided that he maintains a high scholastic record. The appointment or reappointment, however, is made anew each year.

The John P. Lauth Memorial Scholarship. Founded in 1917 by a gift of $1,000 from the Order of Foresters, of Chicago, as a memorial to John P. Lauth, a former professor in the University of Notre Dame. The income from this fund is awarded each year to some needy and deserving student in one of the colleges of the University.

The Samuel T. Murdock Scholarship. Established in June, 1917, by a gift of $5,000 from the late Samuel T. Murdock (C. E., 1886), of Indianapolis, Indiana. The income, amounting to $300, may be used for the assistance of a student in any college of the University who has shown by his industry and attainments that he is worthy of this aid. The income may be allotted to one or two students. Though the appointment or reappointment to this benefit is made each year, the same student may hold the scholarship for four years, provided that he maintain a satisfactory record in his college work.

The Patrick O'Brien Scholarship. Established in 1913 by a gift of $7,000 from the O'Brien family of South Bend, Indiana, in memory of their father, Patrick O'Brien. The income from this fund, which amounts to $420, is to be awarded annually to a student in any college of the University who needs help and who has a high record in scholarship. The benefit may be shared by two students.

The Richard C. Kerens Scholarship. Founded in 1909 by a bequest of $2,000 from Richard C. Kerens, of St. Louis, Missouri. The income from this fund is available for the assistance of needy and deserving students.

The Breen Medal for Oratory. The gift of the Honorable William Patrick Breen, of the Class of '77. Awarded annually to the student who excels in oratory. The award is made after competition in delivered orations, decided by three judges selected by the Faculty. The winner represents the University in the Indiana State Oratorical Contest, held on the third Friday in February. All college students are eligible for this contest, but no student may receive the Breen Medal more than once. The winner of this prize may, however, compete several times for the honor of representing the University in the State contest. There is also a ten-dollar prize offered to the winners of the freshman, the sophomore, and the junior contest in oratory.

Medal for Public Debating. A debating medal is awarded to each of the students who represent the University in the principal inter-collegiate debates of the year.

The Keach-Hering Prizes. Two money prizes have been offered for distribution among the monogram men who have achieved the highest academic excellence. The first is a prize of one hundred and twenty-five dollars given by Francis Earl Hering, Litt. B., 1898, LL.B., 1902, of South Bend, a member of the baseball team in 1896-97, and captain of the football team during the same year. The other is a prize of one hundred dollars, donated by Leroy Joseph Keach, LL.B., 1908, of Indianapolis, captain of the track team in 1908. The prizes are to be awarded as follows: seventy-five dollars to the sophomore monogram man with the best class average for the freshman and the sophomore year; seventy-five dollars to the junior monogram man with the highest average for the freshman, the sophomore and the junior year; seventy-five dollars to the senior monogram man with the highest class average for the four years of college. To be eligible for these prizes a general average of at least 82 per cent must be attained.

The South Bend Watch Company Prizes. The South Bend Watch Company has made permanent arrangements to offer annually a full-jewelled, fourteen-carat gold watch to the senior student in each of the five colleges who has made the best academic record for four years in the college from which he graduates. The recipient of a medal or other prize awarded for four years of general excellence in any course is not eligible to receive this prize. The same company annually donates a gold watch which is awarded to the student who has earned a monogram in athletic competition during his senior year and whose academic record for that year is the best among the senior monogram men.
Semester bills and other accounts are subject to sight draft if not paid within ten days after they have been rendered.

Remittance should be made by draft or by postal or express money order, payable to the order of the University of Notre Dame. Checks on local banks are not desired and the cost of exchange will be charged for all such checks.

The Hoynes Award. Established in January, 1926, by a gift from William James Hoynes, A.M., LL.D., Dean Emeritus of the College of Law. The income from this fund, amounting to $100, is awarded annually to the member of the graduating class in the program leading to the degree of Bachelor of Laws who has the highest average in scholastic grades, application, deportment and achievement, together with fitting qualifications for admission to the bar and to the practice of law.

The South Bend Citizens Prizes. A number of public spirited citizens of the city of South Bend have co-operated in the establishment of eight money prizes of fifty dollars each, two of which are awarded in the College of Law:

Fifty dollars, offered by Mr. Arthur Hubbard, Attorney-at-Law, for the student having the best general average for the senior year in the College of Law.

Fifty Dollars, offered by Mr. William McInerney, Attorney-at-Law, for excellence in Public Speaking in the College of Law.

STUDENT EMPLOYMENT

Through the office of the University Registrar, employment is provided for students who need to earn a part of their college expenses. The University furnishes part-time work for around two hundred students, and a still larger number are accommodated by the business houses and residence owners of South Bend. The positions open on the campus range from that of waiter in the dining-halls to that of secretary to the professors. The basis of remuneration is the number of hours employed and the amount earned is applied to the student's account with the University. The positions open in South Bend include waiting, clerking, tutoring, and driving automobiles. Many students are able to earn room and board by off-campus work, and a few are able to pay their entire expenses. The Registrar's staff personally interviews business men to get a complete list of available positions, and recommends competent students to fill them.

Note. Freshmen are not eligible for student employment on the campus.

Organization and Program

The College of Law is the outgrowth of a course in law established at the University in 1869, and is historically the oldest of Catholic law schools in the United States. In 1905 the school was given the status of a college in the reorganization of the University carried out in that year. The College has enjoyed a steady growth in enrollment, which at the present time numbers over two hundred.

STANDING

The College of Law is a member of the Association of American Law Schools, an association of sixty-four law schools, including the leading university schools of the country. The College of Law has a "Class A" rating by the Council on Legal Education of the American Bar Association.

BUILDING AND EQUIPMENT

Since 1919 the College has been established in a building of its own, named Hoynes Hall in honor of the Honorable William James Hoynes, Dean Emeritus, whose life-long labors laid the foundation for the present growth for the College. Hoynes Hall is a two-story structure well equipped with classrooms and offices. Plans for a new building have been proposed.

A large room on the first floor is set aside for the Law Library, which contains over 8,000 volumes and which has its own librarian in charge. The library is supplied with the federal and state reports and digests besides the standard textbooks and cyclopedias.

AIMS AND METHODS OF INSTRUCTION

It is the aim of the College to give its students a thorough and practical preparation for the practice of law in any state. The case method of instruction is used. By the study, comparison and discussion of selected cases the principles of law are developed with reference both to their historical growth and to their application in contemporary practice. The classroom lectures and discussions are supplemented by collateral reading and by systematic training in procedure through the practice courts. In these practice courts, presided over by some member of the faculty, the students receive training in the preparation of pleadings, motions, trial records, exceptions, and appeals,

It is the aim of the College to give its students a thorough and practical preparation for the practice of law in any state. The case method of instruction is used. By the study, comparison and discussion of selected cases the principles of law are developed with reference both to their historical growth and to their application in contemporary practice. The classroom lectures and discussions are supplemented by collateral reading and by systematic training in procedure through the practice courts. In these practice courts, presided over by some member of the faculty, the students receive training in the preparation of pleadings, motions, trial records, exceptions, and appeals, and the preparation of cases and briefs on appeals. Each candidate for a degree in law is required to complete the procedure of at least one case from the service of process to its final determination on appeal.

ADMISSION

Two years of college work, either at Notre Dame or in some other recognized university or college, are required for admission to the College of Law. The two years should ordinarily be spent in the College of Arts and Letters, Science or Commerce, and should be directed toward the study of law.

CHANGES IN REQUIREMENTS FOR ADMISSION IN 1928

The tendency of the recognized Law Schools is to raise the requirements for admission. The need of a higher education for admission to law schools is not only recognized by law teachers, but by Jurists, bar associations and state admitting authorities. Investigation and experience show that age at entrance and pre-legal training have a direct bearing on law scholarship and proficiency and success at the bar.

Beginning September 1928 a minimum of three years of work in an approved college or university will be required of all candidates for degrees. The combined curriculum of six years for an A.B. and LL.B. degree, as outlined below, may be pursued.

(COMPULSORY)

COMBINED ARTS AND LAW PROGRAM

The College of Arts and Letters and the College of Law together offer a six-year program leading to the two degrees of Bachelor of Arts and Bachelor of Laws. This affords a most desirable preparation for the successful practice of law, and is coming to be the acceptable standard for the profession. The first three years of the combined program are spent in the College of Arts and Letters, the last three in the College of Law. The studies prescribed for the first year in Law are accepted as the equivalent of those taken by Seniors in the College of Arts and Letters, and the degree of Bachelor of Arts is conferred upon the satisfactory completion of the fourth year of the combined program. Upon completion of the other two years in Law the degree of Bachelor of Laws is awarded.

SPECIAL STUDENTS

A limited number of special students, not candidates for a degree, are admitted to the College of Law, providing that they give evidence of possessing maturity, talent, general education or experience sufficient to justify the hope they will profit from instruction.

The electives for the second and third year are listed below under the announcement of the courses offered. Second and third year students are required to carry twelve hours of work each week. Only in cases of high scholarship will additional work be permitted, and in no case to exceed fifteen hours the week.

JURIS DOCTOR (J.D.)

Students entering the College of Law with a bachelor's degree in arts, science or commerce, and completing the full program in law with an average grade of 85, may receive the degree of Juris Doctor (J.D.) in place of the degree of Bachelor of Laws.
MASTER OF LAWS (LL.M.)

The degree of Master of Laws (LL.M.) is conferred upon the satisfactory completion of an additional year of resident study, consisting of at least twenty-four semester hours in elective courses and in the subjects of Anglo-American legal history, history of European and modern civil law, and including the writing of an acceptable thesis.

SUMMER SESSION

The College of Law offers certain of its courses in second and third year Law during the six weeks' summer session of the University. Two summer sessions are equivalent to one semester of work in the academic year.

During the summer of 1927 the College of Law will offer the following courses for regular credit:

Constitutional Law
Equity, or Domestic Relations
Insurance
