BROTHER TOM AND
CORINNE KARLIN RETIRE
NDLS will sorely miss from its regular ranks Brother Tom Balaz, C.S.C., and Corinne Karlin, both of whom retired at the end of the Fall semester. These retirements were noted at the Law School's Christmas Party at St. Joseph's Hall. All of us owe both of them a deep debt for their excellent, dedicated, and cheerful contributions to the Law School. Fortunately for us, they continue on as good friends. Best wishes to them both.

NDLS COMPUTER AND AUDIO-VISUAL SERVICES MERGE

On January 4, the Law School's computer and audio-visual services merged into a new technology department under the direction of Dan Manier. This action brings the Law School in line with the evolution of classroom-display technology. In announcing the move, Roger Jacobs, Director of the Law Library, commented: "With the development of Power Point and Presentations, Lexis' Exchange and Westlaw's TWEN, distance learning as exemplified by the Lawyer's Communication Network, and the potential for even greater real-time use of Internet data, the interface between computer technology and classroom display is becoming even more apparent."

The posting to the law school of Dan Manier, who has collaborated in the past with the leaders of both computing and educational media, gives the Law School the capacity to move in the same direction. Staffing the new unit, Janet Rose, Jeff Morgan, and Susan Good promise to enhance the delivery of technology services to the Law School community, Dean Jacobs added.

Father Ted Hesburgh, the celebrant, also delivered the homily. A wonderful reception, including a delicious meal and dancing to a variety of musical styles, followed in St. Joseph's Hall. After a brief stopover in Boston, Lisa and David flew to London for their honeymoon.

FLORIDA GOVERNOR-ELECT APPOINTS NDLS ALUM TO HEAD FAMILY AGENCY

Florida Governor-elect Jeb Bush has appointed Judge Kathleen Kearney, NDLS ‘80, and a member of the Law School’s Advisory Council, as Secretary of the State’s Department of Children and Families. Although Judge Kearney must be confirmed by the Florida Senate, that chamber currently carries a 25-15 Republican majority.
ALUM MIKE BARNES HONORED

On December 11, at the Morris Inn, the University of Notre Dame and Notre Dame Law School co-sponsored a luncheon celebrating the prosecutorial career of Michael P. Barnes, NDLS '73. Mr. Barnes is completing a twenty-year stint as Prosecuting Attorney of St. Joseph County. Congressman Tim Roemer and Tex Dutile were guest speakers at the lunch. Jim Roemer, Director of Community Relations at Notre Dame, served as Master of Ceremonies.

Earlier this month, the Indiana Prosecuting Attorneys Council gave Barnes its prestigious Eugene “Shine” Feller Award. This honor, the highest bestowed by the Council, goes to a person who, in the view of past Council presidents, “has made a significant contribution to law enforcement and prosecution.” The award is named after a former county prosecutor celebrated for his dedication to the public interest.

Barnes has joined the litigation department of the South Bend office of Barnes & Thornburg, where he will serve as counsel. He will devote his time to civil litigation and to work with the firm's white-collar crime group.

TWO NDLS ALUMS APPOINTED TO PROSECUTOR'S STAFF

Newly elected St. Joseph County Prosecuting Attorney Chris Toth, NDLS '93, has appointed two other NDLS alums to his staff. John M. Maciejczyk, NDLS '84, will serve as chief deputy prosecutor. James O'Brien, NDLS '93, will head the child-support division of the prosecutor's office.

After completing high school in Pittsburgh, Maciejczyk was graduated from the Naval Academy. Following practice in employment law and litigation for several years at a large Houston firm, he returned to Indiana to supervise marketing and advertising for the National Institute for Trial Advocacy. He joined the Elkhart office of Barnes & Thornburg in 1996.

O'Brien placed first in his law-school graduating class. He came to the Law School after he had earned his accounting degree at Notre Dame and worked two years as a certified public accountant. Barnes & Thornburg has been his professional home since 1993.

NEW ASSIGNMENT CUTS SHORT JUDGE JOURDAN'S RETIREMENT

Judge Jeanne M. Jourdan, NDLS '75, who in June retired following seventeen years as a judge, has accepted a position as deputy prosecutor in St. Joseph County. Judge Jourdan will thus join the staff of incoming Prosecuting Attorney Christopher Toth, NDLS '93. Judge Jourdan's assignment includes an aggressive training program for prosecutorial staff and the trial of major felony and homicide cases. Observed Toth: “She was an outstanding trial judge. It's great for us. I am extremely proud and honored to have a person of such high integrity." Although demanding, the part-time position provides Judge Jourdan the flexibility she seeks in balancing the assignment with other responsibilities and interests.
